

With Hope and Open Hearts Sculpture Symposium & Eco Art Therapy Conference

Vallican Whole Community Centre & Ecological Sculpture Park August 23 – 27th 2010

For information and registration: 250 352 2264 www.kati.kics.bc.ca email Kutenai_Art_Therapy@shaw.ca

With Hope and Open Hearts:

Sculpture Symposium & Eco Art Therapy Conference

This Symposium brings together the earth art sculpture symposium with a series community of workshops and an eco art therapy conference. Sculptors will be on site during the week creating and installing sculptures in the Ecological Sculpture Park. Community members are welcome to stop by and observe. Children, youth and families are encouraged to participate in the pre-conference community workshops, which will introduce eco art activities to the community and provide abundant opportunities for participation, creativity and play. The Wednesday evening presentation will explore the role of self reflection and creativity in the development of an ecological identity. The key note conference presentation will look at the relationship between art, nature, education and therapy and the workshops will include nature based art therapy, poetry therapy, and phototherapy.

This late summer symposium is set in the beautiful Vallican Whole Community Centre, which is surrounded by the woods, an open field and the newly developed sculpture park. The workshops are scheduled between 10 am to 3 pm to leave time in the later afternoon for nature walks and swimming in either the Little Slokan or Slokan River. Please bring a lunch.

The week of activities will culminate with the inaugural opening of the Vallican Ecological Sculpture Park on the International Day of Forgiveness, Friday August 27th, 2010, with an afternoon of festivities, which will include speeches, a tour, music and refreshments.

This event is co-sponsored by: Rural Alternatives Research and Training Society (RARTS) & Kutenai Art Therapy Institute (KATI). It is made possible by grants from a Community Initiative Program Proposal with Columbia Basin Trust through the Central Kootenay Regional District, the Columbia Kootenay Cultural Alliance and Canada Summer Student Jobs.

With Hope & Open Hearts Community Workshops

Children, youth and families are encouraged to participate in the pre-conference community workshops, which will introduce eco art activities to the community and provide abundant opportunities for participation, creativity and play.

Tuesday August 24th

9:30 registration

10-12 am:

- a) Earth Art Sculptures with Monica Carpendale and Will Parker

Participants will be introduced to different ways to perceive nature and to interact in creative ways with the natural environment. Individual and group projects will be created using natural materials.

12-1 pm: Bring a lunch

1-3 pm: Using recycled materials to make art

- a) Creating dolls – beings – creatures with recycled materials with Nicole Lebihan

- b) Making Musical Instruments with recycled materials and Music with Kris LeDrew

Wednesday August 25th

9:30 registration

10-12 am:

- a) Create a world using natural and recycled materials with Lori Williams
- b) Create flowers using plastic bottles with Christine Lummis

12-1 pm: Bring a Lunch

1-3 pm:

- a) Animal Puppet making with Judith Robertson
- b) Building a maze, parachute games and community art making in nature with Alex Berland, Monica Carpendale & Lori Williams

With Hope & Open Hearts: Eco Art Therapy Conference

August 25th

Wednesday 7 -9 pm

Opening Remarks

Presentation: Ecological Identity, Self Reflection and Creativity

With Will Parker & Monica Carpendale

Thurs. August 26th

9:30 registration

Thurs. 10 – 12 am: Art & Nature in Education and Therapy – a presentation by Monica Carpendale

Thurs. 10 – 12: Nature Based Art Therapy – experiential workshop with Judith Robertson

Thurs. 12 -1: Bring a lunch

Thurs. 1-3 pm: Nature Based Art Therapy – experiential workshop with Judith Robertson

Exploring Self in Nature: an experiential phototherapy workshop with Jeremy Addington. Continued Friday morning - bring a camera (if you have one). There may be a small additional cost for printing photos.

Friday Aug 27

9:30 registration

Fri. 10 -12 am: Ecological identity and Gratitude: a an experiential poetry workshop with Monica Carpendale

Workshop facilitators and presenters

The Symposium co-ordinator: Monica Carpendale, BFA, DVATI, RCAT, BCATR, is the founder and executive director of the Kutenai Art Therapy Institute, and author of Essence and Praxis in the Art Therapy Studio. Her current focus is on integrating art, poetry and eco-psychology into her work. She has initiated the development of the Vallican Ecological Sculpture Park with her volunteer involvement on the RARTS Board.

Jeremy Addington, BA, DKATI, is an accomplished photographer and art therapist, who has developed a number of phototherapy activities.

Alex Berland, RN, MSC, is a healthcare consultant, who enjoys building mazes.

Nicole Lebihan, BA, DKATI, is an art therapist, instructor at the Kutenai Art Therapy Institute and has done extensive work integrating art therapy into school programs.

Kris LeDrew is a Kootenay drummer extraordinaire, teaching drumming and creating instruments and generally spirit raising.

Christine Lummis, BA, DKATI, RCAT, is an art therapist clinician working at Castlegar Community Services and a workshop facilitator at the Kutenai Art Therapy Institute.

Will Parker, MA, did his MA thesis on the Development of an Ecological Identity, in the environmental education graduate program at Dalhousie, Halifax. He is currently enjoying building stone walls.

Judith Robertson, BA, DKATI, is a nature based art therapist, instructor at the Kutenai Art Therapy Institute and a long time facilitator for Outward Bound programs in Canada and the USA.

Lori Williams, BA, is an art therapist working in Slocan Valley Schools, committed to using recycled materials.

Registration: date _____

Name _____ Child ____ Youth ____ Adult ____

Contact info (email, phone, address) _____

Pre-conference community workshops will be free for all children and youth, and by donation for adult participants.

Tues. Morning ____ Afternoon a) doll making ____ b) musical instruments ____

Wed. Morning a) worlds ____ b) flowers ____ Afternoon a) puppets ____ b) maze & games ____

Conference :

Wed eve: ____ (community members by donation) $25

Thurs morning a) presentation ____ b) nature-based art therapy workshop ____ $25

Thurs afternoon a) phototherapy ____ b) nature-based art therapy ____ $25

Friday morning a) phototherapy (cont..) b) poetry workshop ____ $25

In the Afternoon there are optional activities – please check if interested:

Nature walks & talks ____ Days _____

Excursions to local swimming holes ____ Days ____

Total Conference Fees _____ $100

Request for subsidy and suggested donation _____

Some subsidies available for RARTS and KATI community members

Please pre-register

Kutenai Art Therapy Institute

Phone 250 352 2264

Address #201-601 Front St, Nelson, BC, V1L 4B6

Email: Kutenai_art_therapy@shaw.ca www.kati.kics.bc.ca

Accommodations: www.slocanvalley.com

Friday August 27, 2010

International Day of Forgiveness

Inaugural Opening of the Vallican Ecological Sculpture Park

Time: 1 – 4 pm

Opening Remarks

Speeches

Tour

Music and Refreshments

At the Vallican Whole Community Centre

3762 Little Slocan Road, Vallican BC.

Vallican Whole Community Centre & Ecological Sculpture Park August 23 – 27th 2010

For information and registration: 250 352 2264 www.kati.kics.bc.ca email

Kutenai_Art_Therapy@shaw.ca

With Hope and Open Hearts:

Sculpture Symposium & Eco Art Therapy Conference

This Symposium brings together the earth art sculpture symposium with a series community of workshops and an eco art therapy conference. Sculptors will be on site during the week creating and installing sculptures in the Ecological Sculpture Park. Community members are welcome to stop by and observe. Children, youth and families are encouraged to participate in the pre-conference community workshops, which will introduce eco art activities to the community and provide abundant opportunities for participation, creativity and play. The Wednesday evening presentation will explore the role of self reflection and creativity in the development of an ecological identity. The key note conference presentation will look at the relationship between art, nature, education and therapy and the workshops will include nature based art therapy, poetry therapy, and phototherapy.

This late summer symposium is set in the beautiful Vallican Whole Community Centre, which is surrounded by the woods, an open field and the newly developed sculpture park. The workshops are scheduled between 10 am to 3 pm to leave time in the later afternoon for nature walks and swimming in either the Little Slokan or Slokan River. Please bring a lunch.

The week of activities will culminate with the inaugural opening of the Vallican Ecological Sculpture Park on the International Day of Forgiveness, Friday August 27th, 2010, with an afternoon of festivities, which will include speeches, a tour, music and refreshments.

This event is co-sponsored by: Rural Alternatives Research and Training Society (RARTS) & Kutenai Art Therapy Institute (KATI). It is made possible by grants from a Community Initiative Program Proposal with Columbia Basin Trust through the Central Kootenay Regional District, the Columbia Kootenay Cultural Alliance and Canada Summer Student Jobs.

With Hope & Open Hearts Community Workshops

Children, youth and families are encouraged to participate in the pre-conference community workshops, which will introduce eco art activities to the community and provide abundant opportunities for participation, creativity and play.

Tuesday August 24th

9:30 registration

10-12 am:

- b) Earth Art Sculptures with Monica Carpendale and Will Parker

Participants will be introduced to different ways to perceive nature and to interact in creative ways with the natural environment. Individual and group projects will be created using natural materials.

12-1 pm: Bring a lunch

1-3 pm: Using recycled materials to make art

- c) Creating dolls – beings –creatures with recycled materials with Nicole Lebihan
- d) Making Musical Instruments with recycled materials and Music with Kris LeDrew

Wednesday August 25th

9:30 registration

10-12 am:

- c) Create a world using natural and recycled materials with Lori Williams
- d) Create flowers using plastic bottles with Christine Lummis

12-1 pm: Bring a Lunch

1-3 pm:

- c) Animal Puppet making with Judith Robertson
- d) Building a maze, parachute games and community art making in nature with Alex Berland, Monica Carpendale & Lori Williams

With Hope & Open Hearts: Eco Art Therapy Conference

August 25th

Wednesday 7 -9 pm

Opening Remarks

Presentation: Ecological Identity, Self Reflection and Creativity

With Will Parker & Monica Carpendale

Thurs. August 26th

9:30 registration

Thurs. 10 – 12 am: Art & Nature in Education and Therapy – a presentation by Monica Carpendale

Thurs. 10 – 12: Nature Based Art Therapy – experiential workshop with Judith Robertson

Thurs. 12 -1: Bring a lunch

Thurs. 1-3 pm: Nature Based Art Therapy – experiential workshop with Judith Robertson

Exploring Self in Nature: an experiential phototherapy workshop with Jeremy Addington. Continued Friday morning - bring a camera (if you have one). There may be a small additional cost for printing photos.

Friday Aug 27

9:30 registration

Fri. 10 -12 am: Ecological identity and Gratitude: a an experiential poetry workshop with Monica Carpendale

Workshop facilitators and presenters

The Symposium co-ordinator: Monica Carpendale, BFA, DVATI, RCAT, BCATR, is the founder and executive director of the Kutenai Art Therapy Institute, and author of Essence and Praxis in the Art Therapy Studio. Her current focus is on integrating art, poetry and eco-psychology into her work. She has initiated the development of the Vallican Ecological Sculpture Park with her volunteer involvement on the RARTS Board.

Jeremy Addington, BA, DKATI, is an accomplished photographer and art therapist, who has developed a number of phototherapy activities.

Alex Berland, RN, MSC, is a healthcare consultant, who enjoys building mazes.

Nicole Lebihan, BA, DKATI, is an art therapist, instructor at the Kutenai Art Therapy Institute and has done extensive work integrating art therapy into school programs.

Kris LeDrew is a Kootenay drummer extraordinaire, teaching drumming and creating instruments and generally spirit raising.

Christine Lummis, BA, DKATI, RCAT, is an art therapist clinician working at Castlegar Community Services and a workshop facilitator at the Kutenai Art Therapy Institute.

Will Parker, MA, did his MA thesis on the Development of an Ecological Identity, in the environmental education graduate program at Dalhousie, Halifax. He is currently enjoying building stone walls.

Judith Robertson, BA, DKATI, is a nature based art therapist, instructor at the Kutenai Art Therapy Institute and a long time facilitator for Outward Bound programs in Canada and the USA.

Lori Williams, BA, is an art therapist working in Slocan Valley Schools, committed to using recycled materials.

Registration: date _____

Name _____ Child ____ Youth ____ Adult ____

Contact info (email, phone, address) _____

Pre-conference community workshops will be free for all children and youth, and by donation for adult participants.

Tues. Morning ____ Afternoon a) doll making ____ b) musical instruments ____

Wed. Morning a) worlds ____ b) flowers ____ Afternoon a) puppets ____ b) maze & games ____

Conference :

Wed eve: ____ (community members by donation) $25

Thurs morning a) presentation ____ b) nature-based art therapy workshop ____ $25

Thurs afternoon a) phototherapy ____ b) nature-based art therapy ____ $25

Friday morning a) phototherapy (cont..) b) poetry workshop ____ $25

In the Afternoon there are optional activities – please check if interested:

Nature walks & talks ____ Days _____

Excursions to local swimming holes ____ Days ____

Total Conference Fees _____ $100

Request for subsidy and suggested donation _____

Some subsidies available for RARTS and KATI community members

Please pre-register

Kutenai Art Therapy Institute

Phone 250 352 2264

Address #201-601 Front St, Nelson, BC, V1L 4B6

Email: Kutenai_art_therapy@shaw.ca www.kati.kics.bc.ca

Accommodations: www.slocanvalley.com

Friday August 27, 2010

International Day of Forgiveness

Inaugural Opening of the Vallican Ecological Sculpture Park

Time: 1 – 4 pm

Opening Remarks

Speeches

Tour

Music and Refreshments

At the Vallican Whole Community Centre

3762 Little Slocan Road, Vallican BC.

Vallican Whole Community Centre & Ecological Sculpture Park August 23 – 27th 2010

For information and registration: 250 352 2264 www.kati.kics.bc.ca email

Kutenai_Art_Therapy@shaw.ca

With Hope and Open Hearts:

Sculpture Symposium & Eco Art Therapy Conference

This Symposium brings together the earth art sculpture symposium with a series community of workshops and an eco art therapy conference. Sculptors will be on site during the week creating and installing sculptures in the Ecological Sculpture Park. Community members are welcome to stop by and observe. Children, youth and families are encouraged to participate in the pre-conference community workshops, which will introduce eco art activities to the community and provide abundant opportunities for participation, creativity and play. The Wednesday evening presentation will explore the role of self reflection and creativity in the development of an ecological identity. The key note conference presentation will look at the relationship between art, nature, education and therapy and the workshops will include nature based art therapy, poetry therapy, and phototherapy.

This late summer symposium is set in the beautiful Vallican Whole Community Centre, which is surrounded by the woods, an open field and the newly developed sculpture park. The workshops are scheduled between 10 am to 3 pm to leave time in the later afternoon for nature walks and swimming in either the Little Slocan or Slocan River. Please bring a lunch.

The week of activities will culminate with the inaugural opening of the Vallican Ecological Sculpture Park on the International Day of Forgiveness, Friday August 27th, 2010, with an afternoon of festivities, which will include speeches, a tour, music and refreshments.

This event is co-sponsored by: Rural Alternatives Research and Training Society (RARTS) & Kutenai Art Therapy Institute (KATI). It is made possible by grants from a Community Initiative Program Proposal with Columbia Basin Trust through the Central Kootenay Regional District, the Columbia Kootenay Cultural Alliance and Canada Summer Student Jobs.

With Hope & Open Hearts Community Workshops

Children, youth and families are encouraged to participate in the pre-conference community workshops, which will introduce eco art activities to the community and provide abundant opportunities for participation, creativity and play.

Tuesday August 24th

9:30 registration

10-12 am:

- c) Earth Art Sculptures with Monica Carpendale and Will Parker

Participants will be introduced to different ways to perceive nature and to interact in creative ways with the natural environment. Individual and group projects will be created using natural materials.

12-1 pm: Bring a lunch

1-3 pm: Using recycled materials to make art

- e) Creating dolls – beings – creatures with recycled materials with Nicole Lebihan
- f) Making Musical Instruments with recycled materials and Music with Kris LeDrew

Wednesday August 25th

9:30 registration

10-12 am:

- e) Create a world using natural and recycled materials with Lori Williams
- f) Create flowers using plastic bottles with Christine Lummis

12-1 pm: Bring a Lunch

1-3 pm:

- e) Animal Puppet making with Judith Robertson
- f) Building a maze, parachute games and community art making in nature with Alex Berland, Monica Carpendale & Lori Williams

With Hope & Open Hearts: Eco Art Therapy Conference

August 25th

Wednesday 7 -9 pm

Opening Remarks

Presentation: Ecological Identity, Self Reflection and Creativity

With Will Parker & Monica Carpendale

Thurs. August 26th

9:30 registration

Thurs. 10 – 12 am: Art & Nature in Education and Therapy – a presentation by Monica Carpendale

Thurs. 10 – 12: Nature Based Art Therapy – experiential workshop with Judith Robertson

Thurs. 12 -1: Bring a lunch

Thurs. 1-3 pm: Nature Based Art Therapy – experiential workshop with Judith Robertson

Exploring Self in Nature: an experiential phototherapy workshop with Jeremy Addington. Continued Friday morning - bring a camera (if you have one). There may be a small additional cost for printing photos.

Friday Aug 27

9:30 registration

Fri. 10 -12 am: Ecological identity and Gratitude: a an experiential poetry workshop with Monica Carpendale

Workshop facilitators and presenters

The Symposium co-ordinator: Monica Carpendale, BFA, DVATI, RCAT, BCATR, is the founder and executive director of the Kutenai Art Therapy Institute, and author of Essence and Praxis in the Art Therapy Studio. Her current focus is on integrating art, poetry and eco-psychology into her work. She has initiated the development of the Vallican Ecological Sculpture Park with her volunteer involvement on the RARTS Board.

Jeremy Addington, BA, DKATI, is an accomplished photographer and art therapist, who has developed a number of phototherapy activities.

Alex Berland, RN, MSC, is a healthcare consultant, who enjoys building mazes.

Nicole Lebihan, BA, DKATI, is an art therapist, instructor at the Kutenai Art Therapy Institute and has done extensive work integrating art therapy into school programs.

Kris LeDrew is a Kootenay drummer extraordinaire, teaching drumming and creating instruments and generally spirit raising.

Christine Lummis, BA, DKATI, RCAT, is an art therapist clinician working at Castlegar Community Services and a workshop facilitator at the Kutenai Art Therapy Institute.

Will Parker, MA, did his MA thesis on the Development of an Ecological Identity, in the environmental education graduate program at Dalhousie, Halifax. He is currently enjoying building stone walls.

Judith Robertson, BA, DKATI, is a nature based art therapist, instructor at the Kutenai Art Therapy Institute and a long time facilitator for Outward Bound programs in Canada and the USA.

Lori Williams, BA, is an art therapist working in Slocan Valley Schools, committed to using recycled materials.

Registration: date _____

Name _____ Child ____ Youth ____ Adult ____

Contact info (email, phone, address) _____

Pre-conference community workshops will be free for all children and youth, and by donation for adult participants.

Tues. Morning ____ Afternoon a) doll making ____ b) musical instruments ____

Wed. Morning a) worlds ____ b) flowers ____ Afternoon a) puppets ____ b) maze & games ____

Conference :

Wed eve: ____ (community members by donation) $25

Thurs morning a) presentation ____ b) nature-based art therapy workshop ____ $25

Thurs afternoon a) phototherapy ____ b) nature-based art therapy ____ $25

Friday morning a) phototherapy (cont..) b) poetry workshop ____ $25

In the Afternoon there are optional activities – please check if interested:

Nature walks & talks ____ Days _____

Excursions to local swimming holes ____ Days ____

Total Conference Fees _____ $100

Request for subsidy and suggested donation _____

Some subsidies available for RARTS and KATI community members

Please pre-register

Kutenai Art Therapy Institute

Phone 250 352 2264

Address #201-601 Front St, Nelson, BC, V1L 4B6

Email: Kutenai_art_therapy@shaw.ca www.kati.kics.bc.ca

Accommodations: www.slocanvalley.com

Friday August 27, 2010

International Day of Forgiveness

Inaugural Opening of the Vallican Ecological Sculpture Park

Time: 1 – 4 pm

Opening Remarks

Speeches

Tour

Music and Refreshments

At the Vallican Whole Community Centre

3762 Little Slocan Road, Vallican BC.

With Hope and Open Hearts Sculpture Symposium & Eco Art Therapy Conference		Vallican Whole Community Centre & Ecological Sculpture Park August 23 – 27th 2010	For information and registration: 250 352 2264 www.kati.kics.bc.ca email Kutenai_Art_Therapy@shaw.ca	With Hope and Open Hearts
---	--	---	---	---

Thanks,

Jennifer Hakola
 Administrator/Registrar
 Kutenai Art Therapy Institute
 201-601 Front Street
 Nelson, BC V1L 4B6
 250-352-2264
 www.kati.kics.bc.ca

With Hope and Open Hearts Sculpture Symposium & Eco Art Therapy Conference

Vallican Whole Community Centre & Ecological Sculpture Park August 23 – 27th 2010

For information and registration: 250 352 2264 www.kati.kics.bc.ca email Kutenai_Art_Therapy@shaw.ca

With Hope and Open Hearts:

Sculpture Symposium & Eco Art Therapy Conference

This Symposium brings together the earth art sculpture symposium with a series community of workshops and an eco art therapy conference. Sculptors will be on site during the week creating and installing sculptures in the Ecological Sculpture Park. Community members are welcome to stop by and observe. Children, youth and families are encouraged to participate in the pre-conference community workshops, which will introduce eco art activities to the community and provide abundant opportunities for participation, creativity and play. The Wednesday evening presentation will explore the role of self reflection and creativity in the development of an ecological identity. The key note conference presentation will look at the relationship between art, nature, education and therapy and the workshops will include nature based art therapy, poetry therapy, and phototherapy.

This late summer symposium is set in the beautiful Vallican Whole Community Centre, which is surrounded by the woods, an open field and the newly developed sculpture park. The workshops are scheduled between 10 am to 3 pm to leave time in the later afternoon for nature walks and swimming in either the Little Slocan or Slocan River. Please bring a lunch.

The week of activities will culminate with the inaugural opening of the Vallican Ecological Sculpture Park on the International Day of Forgiveness, Friday August 27th, 2010, with an afternoon of festivities, which will include speeches, a tour, music and refreshments.

This event is co-sponsored by: Rural Alternatives Research and Training Society (RARTS) & Kutenai Art Therapy Institute (KATI). It is made possible by grants from a Community Initiative Program Proposal with Columbia Basin Trust through the Central Kootenay Regional District, the Columbia Kootenay Cultural Alliance and Canada Summer Student Jobs.

With Hope & Open Hearts Community Workshops

Children, youth and families are encouraged to participate in the pre-conference community workshops, which will introduce eco art activities to the community and provide abundant opportunities for participation, creativity and play.

Tuesday August 24th

9:30 registration

10-12 am:

- d) Earth Art Sculptures with Monica Carpendale and Will Parker

Participants will be introduced to different ways to perceive nature and to interact in creative ways with the natural environment. Individual and group projects will be created using natural materials.

12-1 pm: Bring a lunch

1-3 pm: Using recycled materials to make art

- g) Creating dolls – beings – creatures with recycled materials with Nicole Lebihan
- h) Making Musical Instruments with recycled materials and Music with Kris LeDrew

Wednesday August 25th

9:30 registration

10-12 am:

- g) Create a world using natural and recycled materials with Lori Williams
- h) Create flowers using plastic bottles with Christine Lummis

12-1 pm: Bring a Lunch

1-3 pm:

- g) Animal Puppet making with Judith Robertson
- h) Building a maze, parachute games and community art making in nature with Alex Berland, Monica Carpendale & Lori Williams

With Hope & Open Hearts: Eco Art Therapy Conference

August 25th

Wednesday 7 -9 pm

Opening Remarks

Presentation: Ecological Identity, Self Reflection and Creativity

With Will Parker & Monica Carpendale

Thurs. August 26th

9:30 registration

Thurs. 10 – 12 am: Art & Nature in Education and Therapy – a presentation by Monica Carpendale

Thurs. 10 – 12: Nature Based Art Therapy – experiential workshop with Judith Robertson

Thurs. 12 -1: Bring a lunch

Thurs. 1-3 pm: Nature Based Art Therapy – experiential workshop with Judith Robertson

Exploring Self in Nature: an experiential phototherapy workshop with Jeremy Addington. Continued Friday morning - bring a camera (if you have one). There may be a small additional cost for printing photos.

Friday Aug 27

9:30 registration

Fri. 10 -12 am: Ecological identity and Gratitude: a an experiential poetry workshop with Monica Carpendale

Workshop facilitators and presenters

The Symposium co-ordinator: Monica Carpendale, BFA, DVATI, RCAT, BCATR, is the founder and executive director of the Kutenai Art Therapy Institute, and author of Essence and Praxis in the Art Therapy Studio. Her current focus is on integrating art, poetry and eco-psychology into her work. She has initiated the development of the Vallican Ecological Sculpture Park with her volunteer involvement on the RARTS Board.

Jeremy Addington, BA, DKATI, is an accomplished photographer and art therapist, who has developed a number of phototherapy activities.

Alex Berland, RN, MSC, is a healthcare consultant, who enjoys building mazes.

Nicole Lebihan, BA, DKATI, is an art therapist, instructor at the Kutenai Art Therapy Institute and has done extensive work integrating art therapy into school programs.

Kris LeDrew is a Kootenay drummer extraordinaire, teaching drumming and creating instruments and generally spirit raising.

Christine Lummis, BA, DKATI, RCAT, is an art therapist clinician working at Castlegar Community Services and a workshop facilitator at the Kutenai Art Therapy Institute.

Will Parker, MA, did his MA thesis on the Development of an Ecological Identity, in the environmental education graduate program at Dalhousie, Halifax. He is currently enjoying building stone walls.

Judith Robertson, BA, DKATI, is a nature based art therapist, instructor at the Kutenai Art Therapy Institute and a long time facilitator for Outward Bound programs in Canada and the USA.

Lori Williams, BA, is an art therapist working in Slocan Valley Schools, committed to using recycled materials.

Registration: date _____

Name _____ Child ____ Youth ____ Adult ____

Contact info (email, phone, address) _____

Pre-conference community workshops will be free for all children and youth, and by donation for adult participants.

Tues. Morning ____ Afternoon a) doll making ____ b) musical instruments ____

Wed. Morning a) worlds ____ b) flowers ____ Afternoon a) puppets ____ b) maze & games ____

Conference :

Wed eve: ____ (community members by donation) $25

Thurs morning a) presentation ____ b) nature-based art therapy workshop ____ $25

Thurs afternoon a) phototherapy ____ b) nature-based art therapy ____ $25

Friday morning a) phototherapy (cont..) b) poetry workshop ____ $25

In the Afternoon there are optional activities – please check if interested:

Nature walks & talks ____ Days ____

Excursions to local swimming holes ____ Days ____

Total Conference Fees _____ $100

Request for subsidy and suggested donation _____

Some subsidies available for RARTS and KATI community members

Please pre-register

Kutenai Art Therapy Institute

Phone 250 352 2264

Address #201-601 Front St, Nelson, BC, V1L 4B6

Email: Kutenai art therapy@shaw.ca www.kati.kics.bc.ca

Accommodations: www.slocanvalley.com

Friday August 27, 2010

International Day of Forgiveness

Inaugural Opening of the Vallican Ecological Sculpture Park

Time: 1 – 4 pm

Opening Remarks

Speeches

Tour

Music and Refreshments

At the Vallican Whole Community Centre

3762 Little Slocan Road, Vallican BC.